Miss Owens Marries

On the 17th of June Miss Virginia Owens, who has served as the efficient secretary and treasurer of the Appalachian School Improvement Foundation for almost a year, was married to Mr. Lamp, a prominent attorney of Mississippi. She now leaves the State. The work of the foundation is being administered from the office of the President, Dr. J. P. McConnell, East Radford, Virginia. Until a meeting of the Board of Trustees is held, Prof. W. E. Gilbert, of the Radford Normal School, will serve as acting secretary. He will be assisted with clerical help and the work of the Foundation will be pushed as actively as usual.

The foundation provides speakers for all kinds of neighborhood gatherings. Special attention is given to a study and discussion of matters affecting the betterment of public schools, public school teachers, rural hygiene, better roads, and improved Sunday Schools. These speakers are furnished free of cost except to traveling expenses, on request to the Secretary, East Radford, Virginia.

Metal Recovered from Waste and Scrap to the Value of Nearly $73,000,000 in 1913

The value of "secondary metals," exclusive of gold, silver, platinum and iron, recovered in the United States in 1913 was $72,845,000, according to J. P. Dunlop, of the United States Geological Survey. Even this large figure is a decrease compared with 1913, when the value was $77,396,000.

The term "secondary" is applied to metals recovered from scrap metal, sweepings, skimmings, drosses, etc., as distinguished from "primary metals," which are derived from ore, but without implication that the secondary metals are of inferior quality. The Survey figures reveal only in a partial way the vast extent of the waste-material industry, which yearly becomes greater and better organized. The value of old iron and steel reused exceeds that of remelted brass, and the value of old rubber and paper stock amounts to many millions of dollars. For a few purposes requiring especial purity of material it is necessary to employ primary or virgin pig metal, but as a general rule secondary metals can be used in whole or in part, and most foundries use them. Over 90 per cent of the refining and smelting of drosses and scrap metals in the United States is confined to the territory east of St. Louis and north of Ohio River.

The amount of secondary copper (including that in brass) recovered in 1913 was 136,500 tons, being over 22 per cent of the primary copper smelted from domestic ores during the year.

The secondary lead recovered amounted to 72,834 tons, equal to nearly 17 per cent of the refined lead produced from domestic ores.

The output of secondary zinc was 79,570 tons, equal to 24 per cent of the production of primary zinc.

The recovery of secondary tin is of especial importance, for practically no domestic tin ore was smelted in the United States, and the secondary tin recovered in 1913 (13,178 tons, valued at $12,567,379) was more than 27 per cent of the tin imported during the year.

In aluminum the recoveries in 1913 amounted to 4,654 tons, valued at $2,199,480.

Copies of the detailed survey statement of the secondary metal output can be had on application to the Director, U. S. Geological Survey, Washington, D. C.

Quit Taking Risky Calomel.

Here is a vegetable tonic that is far better for you to take than the dangerous drug and poison called calomel. You never can tell when calomel is going to "get you." That's the worst thing about taking so uncertain and dangerous a drug for constipation and liver trouble. Calomel is liable to salivate you or "knock you out" for at least a day the very next time you try it.

The Mutual Drug Company has the mild vegetable remedy that successfully takes the place of calomel. This remedy is Dodson's Liver Tone, a very pleasant tasting liquid that gives quick but gentle relief from constipation, torpid or "lazy" liver.

Dodson's Liver Tone is fully guaranteed, and if you buy a large bottle for fifty cents and it does not entirely satisfy you, the drug store where you bought it will promptly give you your money back with a smile.

Dodson's is fine for both children and grown people.

Visiting Normal.

Representatives of Board of Health Urging Teachers to Co-operate for Better Sanitation.

Richmond, Va., July 18.—Representatives of the State Board of Health are now engaged in visiting the various summer normal schools of the State and report that they are receiving a cordial reception from instructors and teachers.

At every normal, popular bulletins on disease, supplied by the Board, have been offered the teachers and arrangements have been made whereby the board will send all its popular bulletins on disease to teachers or to school patrons without cost.

Officers of the board who have reported here during the last few days are loud in their praise of the normal school authorities and speak with enthusiasm of the hearty welcome given them by the teachers.

It's Great For Balking Bowels and Stomachs.

We want all people who have chronic stomach trouble or constipation, no matter of how long standing, to try one dose of Mayr's Wonderful Stomach Remedy—one dose will convince you. This is the medicine so many of our local people have been taking with surprising results. The most thorough system cleanser ever sold. Mayr's Wonderful Stomach Remedy is now sold here by the Mutual Drug Co.

Barn Destroyed By Lightning.

Freeling, Va., July 17.—A large barn belonging to Columbus Phipps, of Clintwood, was struck by lightning during an electric storm and burned with a mule, a large amount of hay, stored machinery, gearing, etc. Mr. Phipps' small son was under the shed of the building at the time the electric current did its work. He saw the roof in flames, and with great presence of mind he rescued two of the horses from the burning building.

The loss is estimated at $1,000. The property was not insured.

Timber Destroyed by Forest Fires

Freeling, Va., July 10.—Forest fires are raging in the south side of Cumberland Mountain near here, as a result of the recent dry spell. The woods had not burned out for several years and a mass of leaves and dry underbrush had accumulated. Valuable timber is being destroyed, but the flames rage so fiercely that no effort is being made to check the fire.

Such fires in summer, when the woods are supposed to be green, were never known before by the oldest inhabitants.

Southwest Virginia Mines Running Well

A though handicapped by the long spell of dry weather, the mines of Southwest Virginia have been put in good shape by the recent rains and are now running well, said Otis Mouser, general sales manager of the Stonega Coke and Coal Company, who was a visitor at the Hotel Bristol yesterday with his wife and son.

Although business had not yet improved materially, the mines operated by his company, said Mr. Mouser, averaged about five days a week, and they found the labor and car supply ample. The prospects for good business this fall, he continued, were very encouraging, and that his company was preparing to do capacity business.—Bristol Herald Courier.
